HOUSE PREPARE FOR BATTLE Washington, June 27.—The whole question of prohibition enforcement was transferred today from the judiciary committee to the house, without promise or assurance of speedy consideration.

After making this flat stand on enforcement of the law Mr. Crosby expresses a willingness to assist in bringing a test of the law with all possible speed. He promises upon the first violation called to his attention to summon a grand jury and obtain an indictment so drawn as to make possible a demurrer to test the continuous of the committee, some memors in the committee of the committee. timent of the committee, some mem-bers of which will send in a minority report and insist upon elimination of ome drastic provisions.

Backed by representatives from districts outwardly hostile to wartime prohibition, the minority will attempt a flying wedge fight in the hope of so amending the wartime enforcement bill as to permit the manufacture and sale of 2 3-4 per cent beer. Prohibition leaders conferered informally tonight to decide on, a plan of action, believing there was no indication that the president, before July 1, would issue a proclamation declaring demobilization and wartime prohibition ended. Anti-prohibition forces in the house counted heads and agreed to put up a desperate battle for wholesale modifications of several productions.

MRS. GILLIGAN INSANE Middletown, Conn., June 27 .- The state continued today to present the testimony of witnesses in rebuttal in the trial of Mrs. Amy E. Archer Gilligan on a charge of murder. Nearly all those who took the stand are from Windsor, and they told of incidents involving the defendant, all tending to prove the state's contention that Mrs. Gilligan is sane. At the afternoon session Rev. Frederick W. Harriman of Windsor testified that in 1912 the Grace Episcopal church conducted a fund to which Mrs. Gilligan gave $20 as a subscription from "inmates of the Archer home." Witnesses for the defense had said that the defendant gave $250 to a church not of her own faith.

Dr. Charles E. Perkins of Windsor, a former neighbor of Mrs. Gilligan's, said that he had seen the defendant fre-quently and had made professional calls at her home for elderly people. He said the house always appeared neat, that Mrs. Gilligan seemed to be normal and that he saw no evidence that she was a user of morphine.

Edward Winchworth of Lakeville testified that he had received letters from the defendant in regard to his stepdaughter, who had been an inmate gence, were read and placed in evi-
